Woman's Missionary Conference. The Woman's Missionary Conference of the Greenville District convened at the Methodist church in Westminster Friday night, August 12th, 1898, at 8.30 o'clock.

The exercises opened by singing the soul-inspiring him, "All hail the power of Jesus name." The choir was "faithful to the end," and gave us good music until the last doxology had been sung.

After reading and prayer by our pastor, Rev. R. R. Dagnall, our Distriot Secretary read a lesson from Matthew and proceeded to organize the Conference by electing Miss Jennie Grey, of Williamston, Secretary of the Conference.

Mrs. Traylor, the President of the Westminster Society, welcomed the Conference in her cordial, graceful manner and made every one glad she was there. Mrs. Shanklin, of Rock Springs, responded.

Mrs. Herbert, the much loved Vice President, was introduced to the conference. She told how glad she was to be with us and won all hearts in the beginning.

Mrs. Goodgion gave us one of her good talks, after which Mrs. Herbert talked some and read some selections, which were enjoyed by every one present.

The hours for meeting were fixed from half-past nine to half-past twelve, with an intermission of two hours.

The time to adjourn passed all too quickly, as we listened to the words of wisdom from our leaders in this great work.

At half-past nine Saturday morn ing Mrs. Goodgion and Mrs. Herbert were in the chancel ready to begin Mrs. Goodgion read the Scripture lesson for the day, followed by one of Mrs. Herbert's soul-com-

We were much gratified to learn that the little society at Westminster pays more per member than any society in the district, showing that it is not numbers that makes a successful society, but faithful workers. Bethesda is the best society in the country.

Rock Springs was the only society that reported every member present at conference but one, Aunt Martin, who was detained on account of her sick husband.

There are in the district 21 adult and 6 juvenile societies, with a membership of about 331 adults and 130 juveniles.

We feel that only a small part of the church is awake to this great work, when we think there are 84 churches (Methodist), with a membership of 8,769, in the district. Our society now has 74,479 members in the M. E. Church, South, and has raised the great aggregate of $86,413. We only have the two scholarships reported last year-Laura Lander, supportedby the Williamston societies, and Emma Carlisle, supported be the Anderson societies.

Miss D. V. Wright, who is preparing herself for a missionary, read a carefully prepared paper on the Scarett Bible and Training School, showing the importance of the training they get there, that prepares them so well for their life work.
